

CV Džoan Mektivni Mitrić

Joan McQueeney - Mitric has worked in journalism for over 30 years. Her work has appeared in The New York Times, The Washington Post, International Herald Tribune, Los Angeles Times, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Santa Barbara Independent, Chicago Tribune, San Francisco Chronicle, Houston Chronicle, Mother Jones ,as well as Politika, Danas, Vreme, Blic, Novosti,_Nedeljni Telegraf in Beograd.

Her specialties include: medical and aging research, environmental reporting, education and child welfare and politics. Since 2003, Mrs. Mitric has lead several media seminars in Serbia and Montenegro for IREX, UNS/NUNS/UNICEF and the Beograd Media Centar. She covered Serbia's 2000 "revolucija bez krvi" while on a German Marshall Fund reporting fellowship in Beograd. She also wrote about refugee issues in Presevo Valley (Kursumlija, Bujanovac and Presevo). Recently, her articles about recipes for Ajvar, Prebranac, Knedle za Sljivama were published. She also wrote about Zivot Ispod Sankcija in 1993, and NATO environmental damages post 1999. These articles appeared in The Washington POST Outlook section and in Duke University's Mediterranean Quarterly.